WHEN JENNY SAYS SHE LOVES ME

I.
When Jenny says she loves me,
The world is so in tune
I hear its wistful singing
The sweetest songs of June.

II.
When Jenny tells her bright eyes
How sad and then my lot!
For all the world is winter
When Jenny loves me not!

III.
Sad, every song and story,
The weary world along;
Her love is all life's glory,
The music of its song.

IV.
Let moon and star be banished
Let sunlight leave the day,
Earth still would smile like Eden,
Her love would light my way!

—F. L. Stanton.

FULTON AND HUGHES

It was fitting that ex-Senator Fulton should come to Umatilla county as the leading orator of the Hughes campaign. Mr. Fulton is identified with the old guard contingent with which the present republican nominee is playing hand in hand.

The behavior of Justice Hughes on his western trip was no doubt highly pleasing to the Portland attorney. Mr. Fulton undoubtedly was delighted when Hughes snubbed Poin-dexter in Washington and gave the cold shoulder to Governor Johnson in California. Mr. Fulton has long been aligned with our standpatters who hold the progressives in great scorn excepting when their help is desired at election time.

When Mr. Fulton was United States senator from Oregon, by grace of a legislative selection, he cast the weight of his position against progressivism in this state. The people have not forgotten the speech he made at Corvallis in which he opposed statement No. 1. Mr. Fulton was then one of the brigade that loved to sneer at Oregon as being the "fool of the family" because of the direct primary law and other reforms.

Mr. Fulton's advocacy of the

THOSE WHO FINANCED THE GOLDEN SPECIAL

THE most interesting thing about the Golden Special expedition for the reclamation of the west relates to the personnel of the ladies who financed the move.

"Women's Hughes Alliance" sounds innocent and harmless enough, until one examines the personnel of the organization, and discovers that it represents the feminine side of the organized and Morganized wealth of Wall Street.

The treasurer of the Woman's Committee is Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, heiress to the millions of the late Edward H. Harriman, railroad magnate and "practical man" of the days when Theodore Roosevelt received campaign funds from the "crooked business" which political exigency later led him to denounce.

With Mrs. Rumsey on the finance committee are Mrs. Robert Bacon, whose husband was translated from the "House of Morgan" to Roosevelt's assistant secretary of state, and later Ambassador to France.

Mrs. Bernard H. Ridder, wife of one of the proprietors of the New York Staats Zeitung, leader of the German propaganda against President Wilson.

Mrs. W. H. Crocker, wife of the California mining and railroad multi-millionaire.

On the train fund committee are Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, of the Smelter Trust; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, representing inherited millions of railroad capital; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt; Miss Maude Wetmore, of the wealthy Rhode Island family of that name; Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, whose husband, Nicholas Longworth, inherited a large fortune.

The letterhead from republican campaign headquarters gives only the names of the train fund committee as above, but besides them there is an additional committee in charge of this feature of the Hughes campaign. On this committee appear in addition to the foregoing members, the following:

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, whose husband is a Philadelphia partner of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, wife of the Sugar Trust and Standard Oil magnate.

Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, mother of William Randolph Hearst, owner of untold millions in American mines and Mexican plantations.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who has undertaken to raise half a million dollars to defeat President Wilson.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the multi-millionaire mining man.

Mrs. Mary Dreier, New York society leader with aspirations to emancipate labor—a wealthy German family with strong antipathy to President Wilson.

Mrs. William Einstein, wife of the millionaire owner of the Raritan Woolen Mills.

In other words the special train was not sent forth by representative eastern woman interested in the suffrage cause. It was backed by women of great wealth who desire the election of Mr. Hughes because he stands for privilege. Those women dislike President Wilson because he has not taken orders from New York millionaire. They dislike him because New York's financial and social upper crust has not meant much to the president. He has served the people of the whole country.

The claim that the Golden Special was working for suffrage added much to the resentment manifested toward it. It was a false claim and everybody knows it. It was out for Hughes and the motives that prompted the trip are not creditable to the republican nominee.

Hughes cause may be expected to hold most of the old guard in line for the republican nominee. As to the progressive element in the G. O. P. it will not be strange if they should decide to do a little thinking for themselves.

OUR MISERABLE HAPPINESS

HAD this country been plunged into war as would have occurred had not President Wilson remained cool and firm on several occasions people would not be paying $150 per acre for Umatilla county wheat land. They would be using their money to buy coffins or wooden legs.

Had we been drawn into war our farmers and sheepmen would not be enjoying their gratifying prosperity. We would have had an embargo on American products and the government would have confiscated such supplies as is needed, paying the normal price therefor.

Had we gone to war the farmers' sons of Umatilla county would not be attending school this fall or driving about in new autos. They would be somewhere at the front eating canned meat and digging trenches, or else resting beneath the sod.

Of course it is an awful predicament Wilson has gotten us into. He is giving the country prosperity and happiness when really we ought to get into a war of some kind so as to keep in fashion. It is very disconcerting to the tory orators and newspapers, but no doubt the country will pull through in some manner. Meanwhile those who feel they must be killed in some manner can do doubt find ways of reaching the sky.

The W. C. T. U. forces constitute a band of devoted women who have carried on through thick and thin a struggle for temperance and against the evils of the liquor business. They are welcome guests in Pendleton—may they enjoy their visit.

Now is the time for every local resident to line up friends for the normal school measure—it may mean the difference between victory and defeat.

There are many who agree with Sam Blythe that Hughes would vote for Wilson were he not a candidate himself.

28 Years Ago Today

(From the Daily East Oregonian, Oct. 18, 1888.)
Mrs. Charles Frazier is still very ill showing as yet few signs of improvement.

A young man who is by nature rather eccentric anyway, and likes to be odd at times, entered a certain millinery store in town yesterday and sat with great freedom and composure upon the stove at the same time starting an animated conversation with the young lady employees. Suddenly the young man became more animated than the conversation, jumped up, smothered a cuss word, blushed in more places than one and made a bee line for the nearest store. The stove was hot and got in its work on the young man in the above cruel manner.

Stockmen say that the range outlook is very poor on both sides of the mountains, grass being dry and barren of nutrition.

J. H. Raley who was up and around a day or so ago has suffered a relapse and is again confined to his bed.

The Mormons will be here on next Tuesday and Wednesday the 22nd and 23rd inst. The "Stars" are very much scattered but they should gather themselves together and endeavor to give their old opponents as close a rub as possible, in order to usher out the baseball season in Pendleton with a good parting sendoff.

FROM THE PEOPLE

MR. STRAIN REPLIES

Pendleton, Ore., Oct. 17.
Editor East Oregonian:
We also had $898.10 in the ball fund * * * The cost of the library to the taxpayers prior to the county was low, and was as follows for each year:

1910	$ 759.00
1911	800.00
1912	1166.00
1913	1519.28

There has been expended during the seven years operation of the library by this board $1195.00 of the ball fund and cash contributions in addition to the above, or an average of $456.00 yearly. * * * It is our opinion that the NEW PLAN of county system NOW BEING ATTEMPTED will fail.

Note—The cash contributions mentioned above were made to the city library prior to the contract with the county. It is my understanding that the funds were raised chiefly by a library association who canvassed the city for subscriptions for a Pendleton public library, and the membership of the association was not confined to club women, although it had their moral support. These ladies and the lady members of the library board all did splendid work which everybody should appreciate. It may be accepted as certain also that the present library board will fairly consider the wishes of all those people when it comes to disposing of the ball funds yet remaining.

A majority of the membership of the Pendleton library board now and always has consisted of ladies who are members of one or more ladies clubs.

MR. RICHARDSON'S POSITION.

Adams, Ore., Oct. 17, 1916.
Editor East Oregonian:
Dear Sir—Your article on the first page of yesterday's issue, "Hughes Committeemen Are Actively for President Wilson," misrepresents me, though you quote my exact words from a communication of Oct. 12.

If the whole letter was produced, I would consent to let it make its own impression.

About forty years ago I severed my connection with one of the dominant parties and gave my allegiance to a minority party that is still in existence, and with a presidential candidate that, in my opinion, excels any other candidate now in the field in all the qualifications required of the chief of the United States.

I read many editorials, and I meant only to commend your utterances as fair by one who does not care whether Wilson or Hughes wins.

G. G. RICHARDSON.

The following is Mr. Richardson's complete letter of October 12, the letter not having been published in full because it referred to a subscription matter.—Editor.

THE ORIGINAL LETTER.

Adams, Ore., Oct. 12, 1916.
East Oregonian, Pendleton, Ore.
Gentlemen—I solicited the accompanying sub. and may be entitled to some commission, but not knowing how much I concluded to take none.

The E. O. is a good newspaper. Not my politics. I frequently differ with your editorial utterances. But your Round-Up Souvenir issues were the best ever this year.

And I coincide with your Wilson endorsements, the sentiments on the republican woman's invasion of the Pacific northwest.

I wish you could conscientiously score the "Brewer's Amendment," which seems the wickedest conception of jokers ever brewed in the National Association of Brewers.

From your silence on the matter I fear you will be counted in favor of the measure which I think you are not.

From the news items I gather that Pendleton never prospered under liquor license as it has under prohibition.

We are much better without saloons in Adams.

Yours truly,

G. G. RICHARDSON.

SCALP ITCHED HAIR FELL OUT

Big Flakes of Dandruff Would Peel Off. Hair Dry and Lifeless. In Six Weeks Completely

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Dandruff first started by my scalp being too dry. I washed my hair often but in two or three days big flakes of dandruff would peel off. My scalp itched all of the time and the itching was so intense during the day that I had to irritate my scalp by scratching. My hair fell out and became dry and lifeless.

"The trouble lasted about four months before I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I rubbed the ointment on my scalp at night and washed it out in the morning with the Cuticura Soap. In six weeks I was completely well."

THE tip from a user of W-B CUT Chewing to a beginner is:

"If you won't take a little chew don't take any. W-B CUT isn't ordinary tobacco. It's rich tobacco—a chew as big as a regular sized wad of plug is too much of a good thing. If you really want to know what tobacco satisfaction is, tuck a little nibble of W-B into your cheek, and notice how the good tobacco taste lasts and satisfies."
